2021 Cantina Terlan Pinot Bianco (Italy, Trentino-Alto Adige) $28.50

And now for your Weekend Six:

Zippy Zweigelt

2021 Weingut Jäger Zweigelt Rosé (Austria, Niederösterreich, Wachau) $28

This one is such a heartbreaker. We order six cases and receive two.

And since we've already cracked open a few bottles, we have less than two. The smart choice is to stop by Renegade and grab a few bottles of this savory, delicious, traffic-stopping Rose. It's exquisite, nimble and very refreshing!

crème de la crème

2017 Meroi Ribolla Gialla (Italy, Friuli Colli Orientali) $40

There's nothing like tasting the best of the best, whether it's Pinot Noir from Burgundy, Cabernet from Napa, or Blaufränkisch from Moric in Austria. It's simply an exalted moment. So, you ask, what is Friuli's claim to fame? Among many things, the best Ribolla Gialla you'll ever have from the winery named Meroi. It's like tasting a Chardonnay and then tasting a Montrachet. Eyes open wide in wonder, a desire overcomes sense as you ask for one more glass. Yes, one more glass.

This is genius with fried calamari, mussels in a white wine and herb sauce, chicken piccata, shrimp scampi; the list is nearly endless. We nicknamed the wine, 'Sunshine in a bottle'.

To Infinity & Beyond

2021 Les Lunes Wine Cosmic Blend (California) $26

Did we go off the deep end with this one? Not at all. This is an extremely playful take on a Bordeaux blend with a wee bit of Zinfandel thrown in. And if you've stopped reading, you're going to miss this next part: It's fresh and savory and organic and dry farmed and 12.5% and really freakin good. Chill for 20 and you're all set.

For the wine geek in all of us, it is a light (yes, dry) Rose of Zinfandel that's added to the blend, and the grapes are from:

Lolonis Vineyard, Redwood Valley AVA, Mendocino County (Cabernet Sauvignon)

Hawkeye Ranch, Redwood Valley AVA, Mendocino County (Zinfandel)

Devito Vineyard, Mendocino County (Chardonnay)

Pyaleh Vineyard, Sonoma Carneros AVA, Sonoma County (Merlot).

Cosmic Blend Indeed!

It Will Change Minds

2021 populis Macerated Chardonnay (Mendocino County) $24

So we've just been talking about a really cool new red wine from CA, then we tried their Chardonnay that has skin contact. What wowed us was its drinkability. Super fresh and delicious. Clean and bright, and what we termed as a 'real find'. Don't call it 'orange wine', call it your new favorite sipper.

The Bear & The Farmer

2020 Viñedos Bernabeleva Garnacha Camino de Navaherreros (Spain, Vinos de Madrid) $20

Juan Bulnes founded the Bernabeleva in 2006 and has been producing some of the best Garnacha in the Sierra de Gredos ever since. The estate is dedicated to the regions old bush-trained vines, working organically and biodynamically, and helped put Gredos on the map. These wines represent a well-kept secret, and it honestly doesn't make much sense that we can still have these bottles on the shelf for $20, because they kick way above their price point.

Smile, this is weekend wine!

Pre-Order This One!

2019 Domaine Sylvain Pataille Chardonnay Rose Marsannay (France, Burgundy, Côte de Nuits, Marsannay)

There's a story here, one that involves tremendous curiosity and that does not involve a search engine (at first). While placing an order for Sylvain Pataille's Red Wines (they are in stock including his Clos de Roi) we came across his "Chardonnay Rose". Stumped, with a side of glee, we decided to order a bottle because who has ever come across a Chardonnay Rose?

We opened the bottle a few days ago and as luck would have it one of our well-known winemakers was in the store. We poured a round, peeked into the glass and instantly realized there was nothing 'Rose' about the wine. Beautifully golden, translucent, bright. Swirl and a sip and we all discovered that this perhaps was the most exotic Chardonnay we'd ever had. And chatting about it, no one would have guessed Chard in a blind tasting, only brilliance.

Doing a quick Wine-Searcher inquiry on the wine, we determined that Macon-Chardonnay is a village, Chardonnay Rose is an obscure mutation of the Chardonnay grape, that it is impossible rare, and there's no way we should be sipping on this wine in Santa Barbara on a lovely Saturday afternoon.

Order now, and the wine will be here next week. Because we think everyone needs to try this wonder it is on-sale at $52 / bottle (usually 60). We really want to share this one with you!
